DR. ALYSON FOURNIER

Professor
Faculty of Medicine
McGill University

Dr. Alyson Fournier (PhD) is a Professor in the Faculty of Medicine at McGill University in Montreal, Canada. She completed her Ph.D. in Neuroscience at McGill University (1998) and conducted her postdoctoral training at Yale University with Dr. Strittmatter working on neurodevelopment and regeneration. Since 2003 Dr. Fournier has led a research lab at the Montreal Neurological Institute studying molecular mechanisms regulating axon degeneration and regeneration. Dr. Fournier's group studies neuronal signalling in response to acute nerve cell injury and inflammation for the conception and validation of new therapeutic targets to promote neuroprotection and repair.
