

THE INS AND OUTS OF SCHOLARLY BOOK PUBLISHING

THURSDAY, OCTOBER 10, 2019 – 2:30 PM

Jill McConkey
Acquisitions Editor
University of Manitoba Press

Looking for the right publisher for your work? Thinking about writing a book proposal? Revising your thesis into a book? Unsure about what to expect in the peer review and editorial process? Graduate students and faculty, particularly those looking to publish for the first time, are invited to discover the ins and outs of scholarly book publishing in Canada.

Jill McConkey has worked in scholarly publishing for twenty years, primarily in the fields of Canadian history, literature, and Indigenous studies.

All welcome!
