WHEN ART MIX WITH PUMPKIN

The Nutrition Education Community Outreach Association (NECO), in collaboration with Dairy Club, organized an art and food mix activity a week before Halloween. All the participants, including university students, staff, and primary students (join with their parents) came to choose their favorite pumpkin, grab the tools, and immerse themselves in designing, outlining and carving their pumpkins. Each pumpkin, big or small, became an artistic piece since each of them had a unique facial expression, yet all of them bring participants satisfaction. Some of them were placed at the entrance of Human Ecology Building as festival decorations.
