

APPLICATIONS ARE OPEN!

ComSciConCAN

August 12 - 14 2022

ComSciConCAN is a free conference (+ free travel and accommodation!) for graduate students which offers professional training in science communication. Attendees have the opportunity to interact with and learn from leading science communicators across Canada. In collaboration with other alumni and invited experts, former attendees have published over 80 articles and started several new scicomm initiatives.

Applications are open to any graduate student currently studying (or who has recently completed studies) at a Canadian University. Applications close April 6th 2022, 11:59PM.
